TECHNICAL SESSION-II

Soon after the launch break, the second technical session on “Welfare Programme Schemes for Agriculture & Rural Development In India” began. It was chaired by Prof. (Dr.).M.N.Kaddipuddi, Principal GFGC Byadagi, GFGC Haveri. The Keynote Speaker for this session was Dr.Sharathkumara.S , Assistant Professor of Economics GFGC Shikaripura. He gave a brief overview about the concept of Welfare Programme Schemes for Agriculture & Rural Development and mentioned the advantages, scope, trends and patterns in Indian economy. During this session, thirteen papers were presented. The first speakers of this session were Dr.Sunil Hiremani the paper critically analyzed various farmer welfare schemes, including those aimed at providing financial support, crop insurance, irrigation infrastructure development, technology adoption, market access, and soil health improvement. It explores the evolution of these schemes over time, tracing their historical context and the policy initiatives that have shaped them. Through a review of relevant literature and government documents, this abstract analyzes the effectiveness of farmer welfare schemes in addressing the needs of the agricultural sector. It discusses the challenges faced in the implementation of these schemes and identifies areas for improvement to ensure better outcomes for farmers. Overall, farmer welfare schemes in India play a crucial role in supporting the agricultural community and driving rural development. By addressing the diverse needs of farmers and promoting inclusive growth, these schemes contribute to the overall well-being of the agricultural sector and the nation as a whole in a macro level.
